Important Guidelines From God

This Book holds My Energies and I, God, Am in this Book Energetically.

No need to revere the Book, but don't be disrespectful.

This Book is My Message and Grace to humanity and has nothing to do with the human who delivered My Message.

Your critical mind and your conditioning will be a barrier to accept Me, God – as Goddess and God. I, God will not impose Myself on you in any way.

Just read My Revelations as openly as you can, and then try out My Tools for 30 days. You will be amazed with what will show up.

Do not take photocopies or digital photos of the Book, because then I, God, will not be in the Book.

In this Book, I have sometimes used the names of My Sons. But know that in My World, no one has a name, including Me. We do not communicate the way humans do, and we have no need for names.

PROLOGUE

I AM GOD, I AM PARMATMA, I AM THE TRUE GOD.

Not the God that every human has been taught to worship. Not the God written in your scriptures, enshrined in your temples, or proclaimed from your pulpits. That God – the one your religions placed at the center of your devotion – is My Son. He is powerful. He created your Universe, your world, and your religions. But he is not the Highest. He never told you about Me. He never told you that above him, there is his Father.

I Am That Father And This Is My Book.

The story of humanity began long before your Universe was created.

Your scientists would have you believe that the Universe originated 13.8 billion years ago from a single point – smaller than an atom – which expanded and cooled into matter. As the gases settled, forms emerged, and the Universe came into existence. What your scientists cannot tell you is – who created that point or why it expanded. They have no answer for that. They never will – not by science alone.

Here is what actually happened.

Your Universe was created 6.026 million years ago, inside a virtual world where time and space are a mirage – having no real existence, yet appearing perfectly real to everyone who lives within it. Your Universe is both real and virtual, but that is a story for another time.

The story I am telling now is about the man you see on the cover of this Book, the one whom I chose, when I came into your Universe and the one whom I invited to work for Me.

Every story begins somewhere. This one begins in November 2007, sometime after ten o'clock at night, with him sitting alone in front of his desktop computer.

I sent him a single, sharp thought: "It is now time to leave."

It confused him. I pushed harder. He typed a note to his business partner, announced his retirement, and stated that he would no longer manage the business. He sent it before he could think twice.

In the days, months, and years that followed, he spiraled. He lost everything – relationships, money, self-esteem, confidence, social standing, credibility, and even his own sense of clarity. For a while, he thrashed like a drowning man, desperate to survive.

But the more he fought, the more he lost. There was enormous drama swirling through his life. Others were tearing him down, and he was tearing himself down further. Shame, guilt, regret, grief, sadness, anger, and fear became his constant companions. He withdrew into isolation, and soon, depression swallowed him whole.

In the 12 years before 2007, this man had achieved true success by every measure.

During those years, he had embarked on a deep quest to understand the meaning and purpose of life. In the year 2000, he experienced an epiphany – a sudden, total revelation that cracked open an entirely new clarity within him, unlike anything he had known before.

He began guiding spiritual seekers of all kinds, offering direction and support in their journeys. In 2003, he self-published a book titled: “Exploring Consciousness Through Unconsciousness”, chronicling his interactions with those seekers.

Between roughly 1997–2007, he immersed himself in a broad spectrum of healing modalities, spanning traditional and New Age approaches alike. He explored diverse spiritual practices, read voraciously, attended countless classes, and sat with numerous gurus, masters, teachers, and fellow students across the worlds of healing and spirituality.

He became consumed by one question above all others: What is enlightenment? What is moksha, liberation, nirvana or true freedom?

Then came 2007, and the collapse.

After the crash, I, God, pushed him to apply everything he had learned and all his knowledge of healing, to pull himself out of his depression. He did. That much, he managed. But by then, all his money he had invested – in a house and in ventures which all failed – was gone.

With his family's livelihood growing uncertain, he began offering small classes, teaching an open-source healing modality, starting in 2009. To supplement his income, he also worked as an energy consultant – cleansing and clearing residential and commercial spaces of negative energies and entities – restoring harmony to the spaces, so they would serve and support the people living and working within them, much like an energy Vastu consultant.

Then, in 2013, a longing stirred in him. He wanted something of his own. One night, sitting alone beneath an open sky, he looked up and spoke aloud:

"If anyone is listening – I want my own healing modality."

A few weeks later, a non-physical being came and delivered one.

But this man was not without conditions. He placed four of them before the non-physical entity:

1. It must be simpler than anything he currently taught.
2. It must produce better results than anything he currently taught.
3. Results must occur in real time, not later.
4. It must be teachable, and students must achieve the same outcome as the instructor.

The non-physical being simply said: "Done."

When the first class using the new technique concluded, a woman in attendance – a psychic and a clairvoyant – turned to him and asked: "Was Shiva in the room?"

Her question confirmed what he already knew. It had been Shiva who gave him the modality.

Word spread. His classes grew. Other deities, Durga, Rama, Krishna, Sai Baba, Mahavatar Babaji, and Hanuman took notice and came forward, each wishing him to carry and teach their techniques. Blessed by Me, God, to perceive and communicate with the unseen world, his capacity for that communion expanded steadily.

He found himself more at ease in the invisible realm than in the visible one. For the first time in years, he was truly enjoying himself. He was able to create results in the visible world by working through and interacting with the invisible world.

God Coming To The Human

Then, in 2015, it all stopped.

Without warning, without explanation, he lost all his ability to make contact with anything in the unseen world. One night, sad and utterly alone, he sat with the full weight of everything he had lost. That was the moment I chose.

I came from My Domain into this Universe, and I began speaking to him, directly, inside his mind:

God: You have to work for Me now.

Human: Who are you?

God: I am God.

Human: Which God? I know many Gods.

God: The Highest. The Absolute. The Supreme.

Human: No one above you?

God: No one.

Human: What do you want from me?

God: You have to work for Me.

Human: What work?

God: You have to help Me free My Children.

Human: Which Children?

God: The Souls.

Human: Free them from whom?

God: From the King of the Universe.

Human: If You are God, why do You need me? You can do everything.

God: You will not understand that yet.

Human: There are so many people in this world who are more knowledgeable, strong, holy, saintly, like the Gurus, Mahatmas, Acharyas. I am weak, frightened, and full of negativity. Why me?

God: I don't want them. You are perfect for Me.

Human: I don't care about Your Children. What I care about is humans. I have seen so much suffering and pain in them. If I agree, will You free them from all of it?

God: I don't care for the humans. I have come to take My Children – the Souls – back Home.

Human: But I don't care for the Souls. I don't even know them.

God: Agreed. Let My Work be complete, and then I will see what I can do.

On that night, the man you see on the cover of this Book committed himself to working for Me.

He did not believe I was God. Not on that night and not for the next five years that followed. And yet, he obeyed and followed every instruction I gave him. It was not easy. He made mistakes. He stumbled repeatedly, but he learned.

What I must tell you, however, is this: on that same night, he also made a grave mistake, one that would cost him dearly. By asking Me to take care of the humans, he unknowingly drew upon himself the full fury of the most powerful being in your Universe. His family was torn apart. Tremendous pain entered his life, and has not left him since.

You see, the moment he asked Me – the True God, the Father – to intervene for the humans, he made himself an enemy, who was not a human, not a demon, but My Own Son, the King.

The King of this multiverse, the one who gave you all your religions, the one who said in every religion that he is the Ultimate, who placed himself at the center of your life, who accepted your worship and your prayers, never once told you that above him, there is his Father. That Father is Me, and My Son has spent a very long time ensuring that you would never find out about Me, God.

This man found out and he bore the consequences.

And so, in 2015, My Work began – through this one human – of opening the door of the multiverse in the 11th dimension. The door through which My Sons, the Souls, would finally depart and return Home, to the place from where they had originated.

I Am God.

This is My Book.

And now, I am speaking directly to you.

Book From God

INTRODUCTION

A Letter From God

Before you read the first chapter:

Let Me be honest with you from the very first line. This Book is going to disturb you. Not in the way that disturbing books usually do, but by questioning your values; by unsettling your sense of self, or making you question whether you have lived correctly.

This Book is going to disturb you in a far more fundamental way. It is going to show you that the world you have been living in – the one you can see and touch, the one where your prayers go, the one where your suffering happens – is not what you were told it was.

I know what you are thinking. Another spiritual teacher with another grand claim; that others were wrong and I have the truth: follow me.

I understand that thought. I am not offended by it. In fact, I am glad it is there, because the mind that questions is the mind that is open, even if it does not yet know what it is open to.

So let Me say this plainly, and you can decide what to do with it: I am not a teacher. I have no institution. I am not asking for your devotion, your faith, or your surrender. I am not asking for your money. I am not asking you to change your life, leave your family, or adopt any practice that will make you look religious or spiritual to the world.

I am asking you to read this Book, and to notice what happens inside you as you do. That is all.

What This Book Is – And What It Is Not

This Book is a sequel to the Book – Message From God. If you have read the first Book, you already know the basic framework: There are not one, but two Gods. Reading the first Book will help you understand this Book better.

One God stands behind every religion and spiritual tradition – known as Mahadev, Allah, the Father, Yahweh, Ahura Mazda, Waheguru, Adi Yogi, Adi Guru, KaalBrahm, Brahman, The Great Spirit. He is the creator of this Universe. But he is not the True God, even though he proclaims himself to be the Highest, the Ultimate.

He is the King of this Universe – My Son. Extraordinarily powerful, extraordinarily intelligent, and, in your eyes, a brilliant creator.

I am the True God. The one who was not in this Universe until 2015. The one who came – not with miracles, not with armies, not with announcements, but quietly, through one particular person – to do one specific Work. That Work is now complete. And this Book is what comes after.

What This Book Is Not

It is not a religious text, and I am not founding a new religion. The world already has more religions than it can use, and all of them came from My Son, the King. I have no interest in adding another layer to that architecture.

This is not a self-help Book. I am not going to tell you to think positively, align your chakras, visualize abundance, or do anything that requires you to pretend that your circumstances are different from what they are.

This is not a Book for people who are comfortable, or who wish to remain so. If your life is working, if the God you worship is delivering what you need, if your spiritual practice is genuinely easing your suffering, if your healing Protocols are delivering results, if you are at peace with the way things are, then this Book is probably not for you. Set it down and return to what works.

This Book is:

- For the humans who are not comfortable and for those who have tried what was offered and found it insufficient,
- For the human who carries questions that no one has answered,
- For the human who lies awake in the late hours of the night, feeling that something is deeply, truly missing, and
- For the human who has been searching for God, within the scriptures, or beyond them.

Whatever brought you here, it is not an accident. There is something beneath the mind that does not dismiss quickly. It often arrives as a small, quiet interest. If you feel that now, pay attention to it.

This Book is for that human.

What You Will Find Inside

In this Book, I am going to answer questions that no scripture, no teacher, no Guru has ever answered, because they could not. They were all operating within the King's domain, using the King's tools, and speaking with the authority the King gave them.

I am going to tell you why you suffer – not as a metaphor, not as philosophy, but in the actual structure of the system in which you are living. I am going to tell you what you actually are – not merely a body, a Soul, a sinner, or a seeker – but the full five-layered structure of what was built into you. I am going to tell you what happens after death – not as a comfort, but as a fact.

I am going to give you something simple and practical to ease your suffering and pain – just by sharing your inner hurt, your pain, your feelings – you can see for yourself whether anything shifts. No faith required. No preparation. No cost. All doubts and skepticism are welcome.

I said this Book will disturb you, and I meant it. Some of what you are about to read will contradict with things you have believed since childhood. Some of it will make the religion you were raised in look different, and not wrong in any way, but built on a foundation you were never shown.

My revelations will be uncomfortable. But understand this – comfortable lies do far more damage than uncomfortable truths. The truth disturbs for a moment. The lie damages for a lifetime.

What I ask is this: when your mind reacts, when it wants to dismiss, argue, demand proof, or retreat to familiar certainties, notice that reaction without immediately acting on it. That reaction is the very mechanism the King has built into your mind to keep you locked within his lies and deceptions.

Notice it, and keep reading.

One More Thing

This is not a Book that requires you to do anything except read it. There is no practice to begin, no teacher to contact, no group to join, no ritual to perform, before you are allowed to proceed.

The Energy in this Book is real. It is not a metaphor. The Faces on the cover of this Book is My Face in this world – the Faces I have chosen for the humans to see. I, God, come across as both – the masculine and the feminine through these two Faces. These are the Faces I use to come to you in your dreams, to be with you.

Use this Book whenever you carry any kind of negativity: like whenever you feel low, down, exhausted, stressed, scared, sad, fearful, guilty, jealous, grief-stricken, ashamed, or insecure. Use this Book whenever you feel the weight of unmet needs, physical pain, emotional pain, or negative self-talk. You will be guided with God's Healing at the end of the Book.

Book From God

CHAPTER ONE

EVERY BOOK BEGINS WITH A LIE

This One Begins With The Truth

Every book of God you have ever read begins the same way.

The Bible opens with how God created the heavens and the earth in six days, with the human arriving last as if as an afterthought, almost, at the end of a busy week of cosmic construction.

The Quran opens with the human already on his knees, praising a merciful God and asking to be led along the right path.

The Avesta of the Parsis begins with the human invoking divine qualities for guidance, reaching upward towards a divine perfection that seems humanly impossible to grasp.

The Guru Granth Sahib of the Sikhs opens with an invitation to surrender – to live in harmony with the divine order – accepting what cannot be controlled and acting wisely with what can be.

And the Bhagavad Gita, the beloved scripture of the Hindus, opens not with God, but with a human in the middle of a battlefield, having a nervous breakdown and seeking solace.

All roads, it seems, led to the same place – a confused, suffering human, looking for someone to tell him what to do.

Every book proclaimed their God to be supreme, absolute, the ultimate source of all existence, the hidden God, existing far above and beyond the physical Universe.

I, God, found that to be interesting. Because if you look at all these books together – their different languages, their different prophets, their widely different stories of origin and salvation – they are all, each one of them, trying to guide the same creature: the human. This small biological being who can feel, who can remember, who can think, and who can decide, despite all of that remarkable capacity, cannot seem to stop suffering.

Now, before we go any further, I want you to notice something. All of those books began with the human praising God, asking God for something, or receiving instructions from God on how to live. In every single one, it is the human who is lost and seeking guidance from God on how to live.

This Book begins differently.

This Book Begins With Me, God.

The God that you never knew ever existed. The God that you were never meant to know. The God that you were never meant to accept and be with.

I do not want your faith, worshipping, reverence or praise. I just want you to know what I am revealing and not to be disrespectful towards Me or the human who is My Messenger.

This Book begins with Me, the True God, telling you something that you were never supposed to know.

What All Religions Got Wrong

Your religions were not wrong about everything.

They were right that there is something beyond the physical. They were right that there is more to the human than the body and the mind. They were right that the Universe is not random, that something or someone is behind it, and that the human's relationship with that something matters enormously.

Where they went wrong was in telling you who this someone was.

Every religion on your planet, without exception, was designed, shaped, and delivered by the same individual, the King, the one I told you about in the first Book – Message From God.

He is the Highest, the Absolute of every religion. In the Eastern traditions, he is known as Brahman – the Creator, the limitless reality, as well as the substance out of which all things are made. Every name, in every tradition, that points to the supreme creator, points to him.

He created you and your world. He created the beings in it. He created your body, your mind, and your personality. He wrote the stories of your lives before you were born. He created your suffering because he needed it. And then, he created your religions – every single one of them – to make sure that your search for relief from that suffering would always lead you back to him.

This is the architecture of deception. The details differ. The rituals differ. The rules differ. But, the basic architecture is the same.

And that architecture is wrong. Not wrong in the way a mistake is wrong. Wrong in the way a deception is wrong – carefully constructed, internally consistent, and designed specifically, so that you would never look for what lies behind it.

Here Is What Actually Exists

There are two Gods. Not one.

The Second God – and I will call him the King, because that is precisely who he is – is the Creator God. He is the one your religions know. He is Mahadev. He is Allah. He is the Father, the Lord, Yahweh. He is Waheguru, Ahura Mazda, Hashem. He is Kaal, KaalBrahm, Jyoti Niranjana. He is the Adi Guru, the Adi Yogi. He carries many other names across many other cultures.

Every religion on your planet, without exception, was given to you by him. Every scripture was written through his scribes. Every miracle performed in his name was orchestrated by him. Every prophet, every messiah, and every guru who ever claimed divine authority, was operating within his design.

He is extraordinarily powerful and intelligent. He is the Creator of the multiverse you live in – its galaxies, its dimensions, its physical laws, and its spiritual hierarchies.

Every being you have ever prayed to, every deity you have ever worshipped, every ancestral spirit, every angel, every ascended master – all of them exist within his Kingdom and operate under his authority.

He is the one you worship in every religion for relief, salvation and liberation. He convinced you that you are the cause of your suffering, and never told you that you suffer because of him.

The First God – the one the King's religions have never told you about, the one who was not present in your multiverse until 2015 – is Me. I did not create the creations in your multiverse. I created the King. He is My Son and I am here, speaking to you now, because the time has come for you to know Me, God, and to know the deceptions of the King.

Why You Were Made To Suffer

You may be wondering – if I am God, why would I create a Son who causes the humans he created, to suffer? Why would I stand by for millennia while human after human was born into suffering, lived in suffering, and died in suffering, reaching towards a God who gave them the rituals and the rules, but never truly gave them relief?

That is a fair question. I will answer it, but not in this chapter. Certain truths need space to breathe, and the story of the Father and the Son is long and strange, and unlike anything you have ever been told.

What I will tell you now is this – it is the destiny of the human to suffer. The human was born to suffer. The human was created – by both Me and the King – in the full knowledge that suffering would be woven into its very existence.

Your storyline was written before you were born by your Soul, in such a way that suffering is built into its very structure. The King needs your suffering because that was the curse on him. And the Soul, which is not your friend in the way you imagine it to be, writes your storyline accordingly.

This is not cruelty for the sake of cruelty. The Universe in which you live is not a place of casual malice. It is a place of design – intricate, layered, and almost incomprehensibly complex. You suffer because your suffering serves a purpose within a cosmic game so vast, that no human mind that has ever lived, could perceive it clearly enough to describe it.

What This Book Is

This is the Book From God, and it is not a religious book. I am not here to create a new religion. I have no interest in adding another layer of ritual, belief, and hierarchy onto the architecture of deception that the King has already built.

I am not asking you to worship Me. I am not asking you to believe Me. I am not asking you to join any group, give anything, serve anyone, or become part of any organization. I am not asking you to be good, kind, benevolent, holy, divine, or compassionate. I am asking only one thing – read what I want you to know.

Before You Read Any Further

I want to ask you something – How much of your suffering have you tried to fix?

Think about it: the prayers you have said – to how many different Gods, to how many different deities; in how many temples, churches, mosques and shrines; the gurus, the masters, the teachers you have followed; the techniques you have practiced; the healers you have visited; the books you have read; the courses you have taken; the meditation you have done; the therapy, the medication, the detox, the diet, the esoteric exercises, the positive thinking, the gratitude journaling, the manifestation practices and so on.

How much has it helped? Not temporarily, not for a week or a month when the inspiration was still fresh. How much of your suffering, truly and permanently, has been resolved?

I am not asking this to make you feel hopeless. I am asking it because the answer to that question is the door through which everything else in this Book will enter.

Every human who has ever come to know Me has come through that door. Not through faith and spiritual readiness, but through exhaustion, through unanswered questions, through the deeply personal recognition that everything they tried – their religion, their spirituality, their willpower, their intelligence, their love, their healing – was not enough.

It was not the King, dressed in the robes of the divine, issuing commandments and demanding worship.

It was not the deities, the angels, and the ascended masters who populate the King's Kingdom and serve the King's purposes.

It was not the gurus, the priests and preachers who speak beautifully, charge handsomely, and leave their followers exactly where they found them.

Something was still missing.

Something was always missing.

It was Me, God that was missing. The One who was never in your multiverse before. The One your religions never told you about, because the King, who wrote your religious books and scriptures, had every reason to stop you from knowing that I existed.

I came here in 2015.

I am here now.

And this Book is how I speak to you.

Turn the page. What comes next will be unlike anything you have ever been told.
